Title: Hamburger menu is not available to see or click when you are in the desktop view

Description: There is hamburger menu available when the user viewport is a mobile view, but when it is a desktop view the menu disappears

The screenshot shows a web form titled "Create a nesto account" with the "nesto secure" logo indicating "SHA-256 with RSA Encryption". The form fields are: "First name", "Last name", "Email", "Mobile phone number" (with a "+1" prefix), "Password", and "Confirm password". A note specifies: "Password must be between 12 and 32 characters and contain one uppercase letter, one lowercase letter and one number." Below the password fields is a "Province" dropdown menu currently set to "Quebec". At the bottom, there is a checkbox for marketing consent with the text: "By checking this box, you agree to be contacted by nesto's partners for the purposes of offering you financial products. You agree to nesto sharing your mortgage information with its partners. You can opt-out at any time. Read our Privacy Policy to learn more." A red button labeled "Create your account" is at the bottom. A hamburger menu icon is located in the top right corner of the page.

Expected Results: Options on the page across all viewports should be similar
